

TIME	PROGRAM DETAILS
08:30	Registration
09:00 - 10:30	Keynote Can I trust this research? A workshop — Paul Glaziou
10:30 - 11:05	Brain Break (Scientell) (10:30) • Morning Tea (10:35)
11:05 - 12:05	Breakout 3 Track 1: Trust Me, It's Complicated • Human-shark interaction at Coogee Beach: David Sibenaler • Cheerleading for science: the good, bad and the ugly: Jenni Metcalfe • Telling science stories in real-time: Year 3 of a 7-year experiment: Rachael Vorwerk • When models and observations disagree: climate video: Corey Hanrahan Track 4: Evidence Into Action • Science, funding and trust in clinical trials: Gail Marshall • Designing science communication for real-world uptake: Aeden Ratcliffe • National picture of bushfire hazard: Clare Brandon • Citizen science works. Now tell its story: Katie Irvine, Stephanie von Gavel, Ben Sparrow Panel 3: Evidence Into Action Asteroids to Oceans: The Power of Multi-Organisation Science Comms Networks Jo Savill, Fanny Peters, Alina Bryleva, Kerry Mora, Emma Joughin, Susan Warner
12:05 - 12:10	Changeover
12:10 - 12:45	Workshops Interactive Game Feeding Frenzy - an interactive food web game for high schoolers Cass Rowles SciComm Values Combining evidence, experience, and values in science communication Emma Gill Group Co-Write Scieny song group co-write: pitch lyric ideas about "evidence" then sing together Nate Eggins
12:45 - 14:10	Lunch
14:10 - 14:55	How ASC can make your life better Discussing the future of the ASC — Phil Dooley and the National Council
14:55 - 15:05	Brain Break (Scientell) (14:55) • Changeover (15:00)
15:05 - 15:35	Plenary Talk Talk With, Not At: What 100 Science Communicators Told Us About What Actually Works Jen Martin Lightning Talks • Climate, Cockpits and Communication: Can the same skills fly?: Clare Mullen • Vox populi: leveraging events for high-impact, low-effort SciComm: Jason Yuen • Comparing Different Approaches to Science-Focused Shortform Content: Kira Hughes • Why it's worth making science cartoony: Emma Rehn
15:35 - 16:05	Afternoon Tea
16:05 - 17:05	Keynote From investigation to impact: science journalism that saves lives — Tom Hartley, Jasmine Fellows Joint session with Science Journalists Association of Australia
17:05 - 17:15	Brain Breaks - Conclusion (17:05) • Conference Closes (17:15)
17:30	Joint Social Event Joint Social Event with Australasian Medical Writers Association Get to know new friends, cook up collabs, and unwind. Location: Lord Alfred Hotel, 68 Petrie Terrace, Brisbane City QLD 4000